

Nathalie Handal is a poet, writer and playwright and a literary researcher. Palestinian of origin, she has lived in United States, the Caribbean, Europe and Latin America. The Poetry of Arab Women, an anthology edited by Handal, was an Academy of American Poets best seller and won the PEN Oakland/Josephine Miles Literary Award. Her book The Lives of Rain was shortlisted for the Agnes Lynch Starrett Poetry Prize. Her work has appeared in numerous anthologies and magazines, including The Literary Review; has been translated into more than 15 languages and she has been featured on television and radio in the US as well as in The New York Times, The San Francisco Chronicle, Mail & Guardian, The Jordan Times and Il Piccolo.

www.nathaliehandal.com